

IT CERTAINLY IS DIFFICULT to concentrate on much else but the pending election on next Tuesday.

Many people claim that they will be greatly relieved when the voting is over and we can all settle down to normalcy. They also stoutly maintain that business will be better.

Admittedly the campaign does become a bit boring and tiresome after a time.

But most of us would be upset terribly, if elections with all their preliminary fanfare and flamboyancy did not occur at periodical intervals.

We would have to find something else to argue about with our friends.

It is part of our life.

Traditionally your editor makes "endorsements" in the last issue before an election.

And this is it.

As usual a number of you will claim that we have rocks in our head because of the way we see things, politically speaking. (Otherways, too, some might add).

And there will be others, of course, who will maintain that we have been endowed with a previous undisclosed brilliancy because we happen to agree with their thinking.

BUT YOU CAN'T WIN 'em all.

And we do have a problem. We do jump political fences, as it were.

Tried and true blue REPS dislike it when we choose DEMOS, like we have in the cases of State Senator Al Alquist and Assemblyman John Vasconcellos.

By the same token then the DEMOS think it is not right for us to recommend CHARLIE GUBSER (as we have so many times in the past) for congress and Earle Crandall for reelection to assemblyman.

Strict partisan people think this jumping back and forth on the party fences is strictly for the birds.

Basically it is important that we have a strong two-party system in this country.

We believe that sincerely. But we go on our way choosing the man instead of the party.

We keep on hoping that there will always be enough of the straight party shooter to offset mavericks like your editor.

THERE WILL BE FIREWORKS in England on Tuesday, Nov. 5, our election day.

We are indebted to the World Book Encyclopedia news service for that exciting and newsy tidbit.

It so happens that this country's election day this year (Nov. 5) happens to be Guy Fawkes Day in England.

On Nov. 5, 1605, Guy Fawkes and some other people planned to blow up the king and parliament of England.

The Gunpowder Plot, as it was called, was exposed, and the king and parliament were saved. It is now a tradition, World Encyclopedia notes, to burn Guy Fawkes in effigy every Nov. 5.

Fireworks are usually set off around the effigies and fireworks displays are given.

We are glad to get that information.

It is nice to know that the English people will not be shooting off fireworks just because the colonists will be voting next Tuesday.

Maybe ours are not the real bang-bang kind but there are plenty of fireworks in this election this side of the ocean anyway. Of the political kind, that is.

ANOTHER LITTLE TIDBIT of lore (?) which we are happy to pass on to you at no extra charge concerns the information we found in a news release issued from Toyota Motor U.S.A.

The release quoted a story from the Wall Street Journal showing the growing strength of import cars in the United States.

The month of September established an all-time high in

OUT-OF-THE-PUMPKIN-PATCH—Connie Sanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Sanders, 699 Emory, isn't letting anyone cut up this giant pumpkin grown by her grandmother in Ben Lomond. Grown from special giant seed, this little candidate for a jack-o-lantern weighs 120 lbs....and had "brothers" and "sisters" just as big! The Sanders are debating as to whether they should "carve" the orange vegetable for tomorrow night's spooks to see.

Loop gets council okay

Campbell's long-awaited civic center, approved by the voters a year ago, may now move into high gear as a result of City Council action Monday night which pretty well defined the future site for the city hall.

By a 3-2 vote the Council approved the so-called "wide loop" system and thus indirectly located the city center north of it.

Mayor Bill Smeed and Councilman Ralph Doetsch voted against the wide loop concept.

Smeed thought the civic center should be south of the loop while Doetsch didn't like the idea of establishing an imaginary street line.

They both also thought the possibility of widening Campbell Ave., should be further explored.

City Attorney gets big boost in monthly pay

City Attorney Joseph A. Bonacina, this city's legal counsel since Campbell was incorporated 17 years ago in 1952, will become one of the highest paid part-time city attorneys in the state as a result of the City Council's action on Monday night.

As a result of a majority vote of the Council, Bonacina will receive a 50% boost in his monthly retainer's fee.

Retroactive to Oct. 1, the city attorney will get $1200 monthly for his part-time legal job. He had been receiving $800 per month.

The vote to approve the pay hike was 3-1 with Vice-Mayor Homer Hyde abstaining.

Councilman Dean Chamberlin cast the lone negative vote.

Mayor Bill Smeed and Councilmen Ralph Doetsch and Ed Rogers voted for the 50% pay raise.

In addition to the $1200 monthly "base pay", the city attorney will receive additional income for other services that he will render the city.

These services are spelled out in the new job specifications that have been drafted.

For the $1200 stipend the city attorney will attend not more than six planning commission and city council meetings and provide basic legal services for staff, including the preparation of ordinances, etc.

Councilman Chamberlin in opposing the 50% pay hike claimed that the $1200 was an unrealistic figure in comparison to services rendered by part-time city attorneys in other cities.

A survey of 30 cities indicated that only in two cases did a part-time city attorney retainer's fee exceed $800.

Chamberlin also maintained that raising the salary of one city employee by 50% ($800 to $1200) might develop a "sticky" situation among other department heads at salary negotiation time. Such a pay-raise he felt could be considered as unfair by other employees.

Bonacina's pay raise came about 30 days after he had been persuaded to withdraw his resignation that he had submitted in June (effective Dec. 31) and which also had been accepted by the City Council.

Councilman Doetsch, who was instrumental in persuading Bonacina to reconsider his resignation, with his motion on Sept. 23, strongly supported the pay hike for the city's legal counsel and was joined by Rogers and Smeed in voting for it Monday night.

City Council approves new zoning for 'blighted' area

By a 4-1 vote on Monday night, the City Council in effect approved a future change zone change from light industrial to medium high density residential for the Gilman-Dillon-Railway area, long designated as one of the "blighted" sections of town.

The action of the City Council reaffirmed that taken by the Planning Commission previously as part of the amendment to the city's general plan as recommended by the planning commission under the "701" advanced planning program recently completed.

The council action met with the enthusiastic endorsement of members of the West Valley Senior Citizens Action Center who were present at the meeting.

Ed Rider, a director of the center, and others spoke at the meeting and voiced approval of the zone change. They emphasized the need for housing accommodations in the downtown area for senior citizens.

In addition, City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan announced that 13 letters had been received from residents of the Lowell Grattan, a director of the Chamber of Commerce, reported that the board of directors of the C of C had recommended that the light industrial zoning be retained. He said that it would be too expensive to change the zoning.

He added that land in the so-called "blighted" area was priced at $90,000 per acre compared to other areas more suitable for multiples at $30,000.

John Faber, long-time chairman of the downtown redevelopment committee and co-owner of the Campbell Memorial Chapel, said as a former director, he knew that every member of the C of C did not favor industrial zoning for the area. Grattan pointed out that it was the official directors' action that he was reporting.

Although the City Council approved the Planning Commission's recommendation in the blighted area with only one dissenting vote, (Homer Hyde) they unanimously overruled the commission recommendation in another area. This is the West Valley College parking lot, owned by former Councilman Charles Rose and adjacent property including the post office, etc.

Rose was present to oppose the planners recommendation which would rezone the property for parking and public uses. The Council agreed with Rose and voted to have the zone remain as it presently is (C-2-S and R-1)

Gilman-Dillon-Railway area advocating the zone change.

The suggested zone change for the area was part of the proposed land use plan for Specific Area II which extends from the northern city limits to the freeway on the east and to Winchester on the west and to the expressway on the south.

The Gilman-Dillon-Railway area was just one of nine parcels in Specific Area II that had been referred to the Planning Commission for further study.

At Monday's meeting, the council acted on all but two of the nine parcels. Deferred until Planning Commission action was the proposed land use for the Gomes Ranch property and that of property now occupied by West Valley College.

One of the problems that must be overcome in the Gilman-Dillon-Railway area before multiples are developed in the area extensively, it was emphasized, is what to do about the industrial buildings that now exist.

In addition, two applications are on file for additional buildings in the area and more are pending.

Card room 'no': gas station 'yes'

It was "no deal" for cardrooms at the City Council meeting on Monday night. But a service station was dealt a "good hand".

But it was a different story for promoters of a gas station who for the second time around won council approval.

The City Council Monday adopted an emergency ordinance which would prohibit cardrooms operating within the city limits.

At the present time there is no cardroom operating in town.

However, Joe Freitas of Santa Clara had filed an application for one and others are reported in the offing.

The city at present has no regulatory legislation that would cover cardrooms. Councilmen wanted time to see how other cities are playing their cards. So the interim ordinance prohibiting the cardrooms was adopted.

In the gas station situation, the councilmen overruled a previous Planning Commission action which specified that a public street was to be constructed by the developers next to the service station.

The gas station is proposed for the southern edge of the Campbell Plaza Shopping Center at Winchester and Budd.

The Planning Commission originally had denied the use permit for the station. The Council then overruled the commission on appeal.

When plans for the station were submitted, the commissioners tacked on the public street condition.

On Monday night, again on appeal, the Council ruled the street need not be public.

Luncheon boosts jobs for youths

A record attendance was on hand last Tuesday in the Fellowship Hall at the Methodist Church when the Chamber of Commerce launched its youth employment program that will go into effect next summer.

Rep. Charles Gubser, who has represented this district in congress for nine terms, was the keynote speaker. The Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, instead of holding their regular weekly meetings on Monday and Tuesday, respectively, joined with the C of C to make it a combined civic venture.

Ticket sales income above the cost of the luncheon went into the youth employment kitty.

Janie Wong. Mrs. Stanford is now in her young 90's. Janie was Girls State governor and is a Campbell High senior.

C of C "blitzes" Friday

READY TO GO—Two teams of Chamber of Commerce members of 30 workers each will stage their annual one-day membership blitz this Friday, Nov. 1. The teams, Tories, captained by Connie Russo and the Whigs headed by Bob Blonder, will begin action with a kickoff breakfast at Luoto's at 8 a.m.

Report-in-time will be between 5 and 6 p.m. at the Chamber of Commerce office where the results will be tallied. The winning team, according to Al LaPlante, director of the drive, will be awarded a prize as will the top salesmen.

"Drum Major" LaPlante poses in the above photo between his two captains who are doing some pre-game boosting with their signs.

TWISTED MINDS / PIPE—This grotesquely twisted pipe at the Alice Ave. mini-park which is being improved by volunteer labor is mute evidence that there are people with sick minds around these parts.

The irrigation pipe was installed in the miniature park by a group of hard-working volunteers on Saturday who are anxious to make the little park a show place for the community.

On Sunday morning, some person or group of persons moved in and did the above damage, ruining an entire section of the newly installed pipe.

Editorial

The Press recommends

Having exercised an unusual amount of soul-searching, The Campbell Press editorially in this issue makes its recommendations of the candidates seeking office in next Tuesday's (Nov. 5) general election.

As in previous election-eve endorsements we have made, The Press again jigs back and forth across party lines in the 1968 production.

And in one case (U.S. Senate), The Campbell Press makes no recommendation.

We are quite aware that our endorsements or recommendations may be considered faulty by some, immature by others and completely stupid by a few.

Admittedly your editor had difficulty in a number of cases deciding which way to go. And, as we pointed out, in the U.S. Senate race, we have yet to make up our mind. We sincerely hope we do so before we enter the polling booth next Tuesday.

In every instance except one, (the 9th congressional district which barely touches Campbell), The Press has endorsed the incumbent seeking office, whether Republican or Democrat or non-partisan as in the supervisorial contest.

As a general rule, we believe that an office-holder gains effectiveness by an experience in office. This will be especially true, we feel, in the cases of Assemblyman Earle Crandall (R-25) and John Vasconcellos (D-24) who are seeking their second terms.

Here is how we see 'em. Have fun picking us to pieces:

FOR PRESIDENT:

Richard M. Nixon (R)

FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR

No recommendations (Candidates are Max Rafferty, Rep., and Alan Cranston, Dem.)

FOR CONGRESS (10th District)

Charles S. Gubser (R), incumbent

FOR CONGRESS (9th District)

Lawrence Fargher (R)

FOR STATE SENATE (13th District)

Alfred E. Alquist (D) incumbent

FOR ASSEMBLY (25th District)

Earle P. Crandall (R) incumbent

FOR ASSEMBLY (24th District)

John Vasconcellos (D) incumbent

FOR ASSEMBLY (22nd District)

George W. Milias (R), incumbent

FOR JUDGE OF THE SUPERIOR COURT

James B. Scott
(Judge of the Municipal Court)

FOR SUPERVISOR (2nd District)

Sam P. Della Maggiore (incumbent)

FOR COUNTY WATER DIRECTOR

E. A. Mirassou

In last week's issue of The Campbell Press we made our recommendations on the 10 statewide propositions that will be on next Tuesday's ballot.

In addition, electorate in San Jose next Tuesday will vote on two city measures, sewer bonds "A" and housing authority "B". (Santa Clara citizens will vote on the same sewer bond issue as San Jose. In Santa Clara the measure is "C".

Palo Alto and Mountain View have special measures on the ballot as have Oak Grove, Morgan Hill and Gilroy school districts.

We believe the $25,420,000 bond issue for sewer bonds to improve and expand the San Jose-Santa Clara Water Pollution Control (sewage treatment) plant near Alviso, to meet the standards for Bay purity established by the Regional Water Quality Control Board is a necessary economic step.

True, only the residents within the city limits of Santa Clara and San Jose are voting on the sewer bond issue, but all of us in the entire area are concerned and affected.

We sincerely hope voters in our neighboring cities give a resounding "yes" vote on Tuesday.

The recommendations on the 10 statewide measures that appeared in last week's issue were as follows:

- 1-A (tax relief) YES
1. (Constitutional revision) YES
2. (Assessment of public property) YES
3. (Higher Education Bonds) YES
4. (Simplified Income tax forms) YES
5. (Hospital loans) YES
6. (Insurance tax on retirement funds) YES
7. (Allocation of state funds) YES
8. (Sales tax sharing) YES
9. (Watson amendment) NO

NEW TOPPING--Resurfacing of Campbell Ave., a project that has been long-awaited by business people, residents and passers-through for many years was completed this week when the top coating of the street was laid.

Because a new process was used in the resurfacing of the street, the street was closed to traffic for much less time than had been the case in similar jobs in the past.

Since April, Campbell Ave. has been the "target" of various types of construction projects, including the installation of storm drains and utility lines.

The street job will be completely wrapped up when finishing touches are put on the curbs.

retail import sales of 94,000 units, marking the eighth consecutive month that imports have set new monthly sales records.

The news release, although issued by Toyota, reported that Volkswagen remains the largest selling foreign car in this country by a sizeable margin.

It was pointed out, however, that the drama lies in the three-country race for second, third, fourth and fifth rankings.

Germany, Japan and Sweden dominate the top five rankings.

The crux of the news release was found in the paragraph that showed that Toyota had gone into second spot in the import sales in September.

But that really was not what interested us.

We have long been aware of the large number of Volkswagens on the road today, although we had no idea of how many there were.

So as a driver of a VW bug we are appreciative of the Wall Street Journal through this Toyota news release of informing us as to the exact figures.

We knew there were lots and lots of the little bugs around.

But we hadn't any idea of how to count 'em.

Like the other day at the post office.

We walked out of the mail emporium with Lowell Benson, another VW driver. (His wife, Skipper, drives one, too).

Anyway parked in the post office lot side by side were four of the snub-nosed VW's.

No other brand, domestic or imported, could even come close to that record parking lot set by those VW's at that time.

Or any other time. Probably.

SHOCKED IS ABOUT THE only way we can describe our feelings the other day when we pulled an extra set of keys out of our pocket.

You see we so often misplace such items as reading glasses, fountain pens, and, of course, car keys that to find a set of keys on our person in addition to our own gave us quite a start.

Especially when we dis-

ONE INJURY--One of the results of the Monday closing of Campbell Ave. for the final paving was an injury suffered by Ricky Chorjel, 3-year old son of David L. Chorjel, 20450 Sea Gull Way, Saratoga.

Ricky was injured at approximately 4:25 p.m. at the corner of Winchester and Campbell Avenues when the pick-up truck, above, in which he was riding was struck by a truck van driven by Hugh Russell Davidson, an Agnew State Hospital employee, who made a left hand turn in front of the Chorjel car.

Ricky was treated for minor injuries at the Campbell Community Hospital and released.

Sure enough, somehow while we were talking to Sid Tiger, (he and his wife have just opened the "House of Fashion" in the Kirkwood Plaza), we had picked up the keys that were on the counter.

They belonged to someone who quite naturally was quite upset about losing her keys. (She just KNEW she had them when she came into the store. She was right, you know.)

We hope that the party was so thankful to "find" her keys that she overlooked this "klepto" key act on our part.

We don't know first hand.

It just so happened that we became frightfully busy so Fran "volunteered" to take them back to the House of Fashion.

LIKE FATHER LIKE SON is an age-old adage that probably has been disproved almost as many times as it has been proved.

But recently City Manager Bob Stephens and his son, Bob Jr., made some new points for that old saw.

Young Bob, a graduate of San Jose State with a master's degree from Cal, has just taken a position as administrative assistant to the city manager in Ontario, Calif.

Bob senior claims he did not try to influence his son in choosing a profession.

But you can bet your boots that Bob, senior, is proud that Bob, junior, picked the city manager field.

The old man can't be all bad.

THIS IS HOME-The last time the Campbell Press featured pictures of Le Nhon, 15, left and Huyen Bua, 17, right, they were hospitalized at Campbell

Community Hospital, with injuries incurred in their native Vietnam. Last week the two boys attended a special UN

Day program at the Congregational Church of Campbell where Nhon has been attending an English class.

FEAST OF THE NATIONS-Foods of many lands were provided by students of Mrs. Shirley Holm's "English as a Second Language" class when they used their initiative and ingenuity to develop and perform in a special UN Day program at the Campbell Congregational Church.

Basic English class observes U. N. Day with "Feast of Nations"

"UN Day" got the full treatment in Campbell last week, when more than 30 students attending the "English as a Second Language" class turned their attention on their mother countries.

Surrounded by an almost unbelievable array of foods and displays depicting the 19 foreign countries they represented, the students turned Bennett Hall of the Campbell Congregational Church, 400 W. Campbell Ave. into an airline depot and sent their audience on a world-wide tour.

Mistress of ceremonies was Mary-Claude S. Wanner of Switzerland who coordinated the event which led the audience through Poland, Germany, Switzerland and France. In France they paused while talented Philippe Torrecilla sketched dress designs. (In Switzerland they had enjoyed a cooking lesson by Mrs. Wanner and countrywoman Maria Ernst.)

The journey continued through Holland, Greece, Palestine, Iran, and India, where Mrs. Indu Vira, using classroom teacher Shirley Holm as a model, demonstrated the draping of a sari. Then the trip proceeded through Hong Kong and down into South Vietnam, where Le Nhon, a 15 year old Vietnamese boy, displayed goods of his homeland. Taiwan was the next stop and into Japan where two young ladies currently training with the Santa Clara Swim Team for the 1972 Olympics, performed a native dance.

Mexico, Spain and Cuba were well represented and Mrs. Maruja Henry and her daughter performed a native Spanish dance. Final stop was the Ukraine where Simon Shumakov sang a song.

Group singing closed the program, most notably with "It's a Small World" which was sung in English, Polish, Japanese, German, Spanish and French.

The "English as a Second Language" is in its second successful year, with cooperation from the Congregational Church which provides baby sitting services for students. The class of 33 is led by Mrs. Shirley Holm and teacher aides and volunteers.

Persons interested in this class or other classes conducted by Metropolitan Adult Education should contact the Campbell office at 124 W. Latimer, 379-8550, or the San Jose office, 293-5400, according to Robert P. Hichborn, curriculum coordinator.

BEAUTIFUL BUTTERFLIES-Miss Miho Kobayashi and Miss Junko Hasumi pose in native costumes for a UN Day celebration. The two little maids from Japan are working with the Santa Clara Swim Team with their sights on the 1972 Olympics and are currently studying English at a Metropolitan Adult Education class at the Campbell Congregational Church.

PTA NEWS

CASTLEMONT PTA
The Castlemont Elementary School PTA concluded a successful fall membership drive with the annual "Back-to-School" night on Oct. 8. A near record turnout of approximately 300 parents appeared for this first meeting and took part in classroom group conferences conducted by the teachers.

PTA meeting plans for the year include monthly general meetings focusing on communication at all levels of community concern. The next general meeting will be held in the school multi-purpose room on Nov. 12 at 7:30 p.m. Parent-Teacher communication will be the topic, a timely one in view of the individual conferences coming in November.

PTA president Bob Tabone has called a special general meeting for Tuesday, Oct. 29, at which time guest speakers will discuss the various aspects of Proposition 9 - a November ballot issue of grave concern to all. Castlemont's PTA Executive Board has endorsed the state chapter's position against Proposition 9.

In addition to the meetings of Oct. 29 and Nov. 12, parents are looking forward to the annual "Spook Parade", to be held at school on Oct. 31 at 1:15 p.m. in the courtyard.

Congratulations were given to Jim Gilliland, Castlemont's PTA treasurer, on his recent appointment to the school board - filling the vacancy created by the resignation of Ted Sedgwick, who has recently moved from the district.

Mrs. Francis (Dee) Clarke, room mother chairman, reports that her organizational meeting earlier this month brought together an enthusiastic group of mothers representing all of the classrooms of the school.

Thanks to the drive and energy of many, many active parents, the PTA is looking forward to one of its best years, judging by the membership response and the turnout for the October meeting.

WESTMONT HIGH
"Snoopy" has been added to the membership drive team at the Westmont PTA in the final closing week of the drive for new members.

Membership envelopes will be collected daily in special "Snoopy Dinner Bowls". The class bringing in the highest percentage of members will receive a scholarship fund for one of their classmates, the final selection to be made by the class members. A large Snoopy dog will also be awarded to a member of the winning class.

Parents were urged to join the PTA by C. Warren Conrad, principal who stated that the Westmont PTA assists the students with scholarships, library, sports, band equipment and other special supplies.

On Nov. 6 Westmont High will hold "Back to School Night". This will also be the last night of the membership drive.

CAMPBELL ELEMENTARY
"Narcotics" will be the subject of a 7:30 p.m. program presented by Haskell Bowen at the Campbell Elementary school on Monday, Nov. 4. The program is sponsored by the Campbell Home and School Club.

Bowen helped establish a drug abuse information center in Santa Clara County and also assisted in bringing this important issue into focus within the Campbell High School District curriculum. His presentation will include slides, sample materials and a question and answer period.

Invitations are being sent to all parents in the Campbell, Hamilton, Hazelwood and Rosemary School areas.

PEACE CORPS VOLUNTEER-Eva F. Quezada of 113 E. Payne Ave., has recently been named a Peace Corps Volunteer after completing eight weeks of training at the Institute of Education, University of West Indies in Trinidad.

Miss Quezada is one of approximately 50 new Volunteers who will work in education programs on eastern Caribbean islands. Volunteers will provide in-service primary teacher training, visit schools to hold demonstration classes and professional workshops, and instruct teachers in math, science, English and history to help them meet standards for certification.

Eva has been a high school tutor and is a graduate of San Jose State College with an AB in history.

Elks Club wives plan 'Champagne of Fashion'

"A Champagne of Fashion" is the title chosen for the Fifth Annual Fashion Show to be held by the Elks Club Wives on Nov. 2 at the Los Gatos Elks Club, Winchester Blvd.

The semi-formal affair will open with canapes and champagne being served from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. The fashion show will start promptly at 8:30 p.m. Joe Whelan will be the narrator and the models will include wives of the Los Gatos club and the Exalted Rulers from other California Elks Lodges. Los Gatos Elks Lodge members will also model the new fall clothing for the men.

Mrs. Neil Duggan is serving as chairman for the evening festivities which are open to all Elks Club members, their wives and guests. Proceeds from the affair will go to the Elks National Foundation. Co-chairman is Mrs. Alford Wlodzka.

FASHION SHOW PLANNERS-Four Campbell members of the Elks Club Wives organization put their talents together to insure that the fashion show planned by the group for Nov. 2 will be a wonderful evening to remember. L. to r. are Mrs. June Brumleve, Mrs. Colleen Biscardi, vice-president of the organization; Mrs. Mary Hansen and Mrs. Ellie Wilson, who will be one of the models for the event.

- Enormous property tax savings to large landowners and speculators would have to be made up by drastically increased income and sales tax on homeowners and renters.
- California's school system would be thrown into chaos.
- Bonds for construction projects totalling more than $5 billion dollars — authorized by the voters but unissued — could not be sold. This represents a loss of more than half a million jobs for California workers.

are the great majority of Californians HURT by The Tax Trap Initiative?

A practical method of replacing property tax revenues lost under Proposition 9 would be a combination of these State tax increases, as calculated by State fiscal experts:

- (1) Doubling existing State Income Tax
- (2) Doubling existing State Sales Tax
- (3) Imposition of 5% Sales Tax on Food

This shifting of tax burdens would have the following effect on a family of four:

Campbell High School District sponsors Parent Education program

Hundreds of parents in the Campbell Union High School district are participating in a unique program geared to better understanding their teenage youth. The Parent Education Program in the Campbell Union High School district is beginning its thirteenth year of operation.

A series of Parent Coffee Hours have been held in each of the eight schools of the district to enable parents to meet the school staff and to visit the classroom to see a "typical school day in operation."

The second aspect of the Parent Education Program is the Parent Discussion Forums whose general topic is "Better Understanding Our High School Youth". These discussion groups are sponsored by the District to afford parents the opportunity to meet informally, in neighborhood homes, to exchange ideas with other parents on topics of interest and concern relating to youth's problems and education.

Each discussion group has a leader, hostess, recorder, and a consultant, usually a school official, well informed on the topic being discussed. The consultant is sponsored by the Metropolitan Adult Edu-

Mini-election planned at Westmont High

Students at Westmont High School will be enfranchised this fall even though they are not yet 21. On Thursday, Oct. 31, they will vote for President of the United States, for senator and congressional representative, and on several propositions in a completely student run election.

Every effort has been made to make this mock election as similar to the real thing as possible. Students who wish to vote must register at least 48 hours ahead of time and must sign in at the polls. They will vote in private booths.

Student speakers, representing all political viewpoints, will present their ideas during both lunches on the day before the election.

An election committee, headed by senior Lee MacFarland and consisting of student government officers and other interested individuals, will handle the technical details of registration, balloting and tallying votes. After the election, the committee expects to correlate the results of Westmont's election with those of the national election.

The students may have one advantage over most of the electorate. They will study the maze of propositions before the California public in their social studies classes before voting.

cation Center. Also available to the group is the Parent Education Library consisting of pamphlets, films and filmstrips.

General organizational meetings will be held in each school at the end of October and during the month of November.

Besides the organizational meetings, monthly workshops for the leaders will be arranged to discuss procedure, resource material, and group dynamics. In April, a culmination meeting will be held for all the groups in the District, where recommendations and suggestions from the discussion groups will be presented. There will also be an outstanding speaker of special interest to parents. The general public is invited to attend.

Parents interested in participating in this Parent Education Program, especially the Discussion Groups, should contact Mrs. Helen Andres, Assistant Superintendent and Parent Education Coordinator, at 275 E. Campbell Avenue, Campbell, or phone 379-4710.

PG&E cooperates with county in preserving scenic values

The Golden State's modern bonanza, the multi-billion dollar agriculture business, is dramatically portrayed in a new Pacific Gas and Electric Company motion picture, "Harvest."

Two years in the making, the 27-minute color film will be released Nov. 1.

It relates man's quest for food and water and his success in conquering arid lands. It is the story of modern farming methods which have turned California into the world's most bountiful agricultural region.

Jon F. Stanton, PG&E's prize-winning cinematographer, has captured the state's agricultural domain in beautiful scenes that follow the four seasons and move from snow-capped mountain tops to fertile valleys.

The 16mm movie will be distributed without cost to schools, service clubs and other groups through PG&E

Graduates of WVC vocational nursing make good records

Graduates of West Valley College's Licensed Vocational Nursing Program are making their way in the world, the Board of Trustees of the College was informed at its re-

APPRECIATION—During recent graduation ceremonies for participants in the West Valley College Licensed Vocational Nursing Program, an award of appreciation was presented to Mrs. Helen McKillip, Campbell, president of West Valley College alumni association. The award was presented to the alumni in appreciation of its help and support with class functions during the 1967-68 school year.

cent meeting.

Dr. Wallace W. Hall, college president, quoted from a report submitted to him by Mrs. Eunice Hedrick, coordinator of Nursing Education.

Mrs. Hedrick reported that of the 25 graduates of the 1967 LVN class: nine students are currently employed in convalescent hospitals, two are enrolled in higher education programs, nine are currently employed in community hospitals in the San Jose area, three are employed at the Kaiser Clinic, one is employed at a general hospital in San Francisco, and another is terminating her employment to become a mother.

The 1968 class record is almost as good. Of the 26 graduates: four are doing private duty nursing, two are employed at the Palo Alto Veterans Hospital, one each is employed at Agnews State Hospital, a convalescent hospital and is a student at San Jose State College. Two are enrolled as full-time day students at West Valley College.

Six are employed in community hospitals in the area, nine are taking a vacation from school and work to study for the State Board examination.

SENIOR SCOUTS

Several local senior scouts will be attending the Saturday, Nov. 2 meeting at Palo Alto which will be part of a national effort by Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. to help find solutions to the problems that are creating unrest in America.

Scouts from Troop 700 will be attending, according to Mrs. Jan Pulmuder, Senior Scout leader in the area. The meetings will be open to all teenage girls, scouts or non-scouts alike. Discussion will focus on ways to change personal attitudes, break down walls to prejudice and cement understanding among all people.

COMPLETES TRAINING—Mrs. Ruth Pope, Campbell, left, having completed her provisional period of membership in Good Samaritan Hospital Auxiliary, shows her service chairman, Mrs. Paul Gebhardt, acting as patient in wheel chair, that she is careful to remember hospital rule of use of seat belt for patient safety. Mrs. Pope and Mrs. George Langnese, also of Campbell, were among the 43 volunteer members of the Auxiliary to receive their emblems at a ceremony held recently at the hospital chapel.

Other awards presented during the evening were given to John Stephenson and Mickey Rymer, Wolf badges; Richard Feuerstein and Bryon Glover, gold arrows; Richard

The trophy for the best looking car in the Pine Wood Derby was presented to Ron Herbst.

It was announced that the next paper drive would be held on Dec. 7 and the next Pack meeting will be on Nov. 21 instead of the fourth Thursday. Members of the committee will meet on Nov. 14 at the Carlson residence, 636 Ginden Drive.

Committee members include Jim Stephenson, chairman, assisted by Don O'Berg. Bill Thompson is treasurer; Verla Feuerstein, secretary; Jim Stephenson, awards; and Don O'Berg acting as Webelos chairman.

PIERRE SALINGER Former Press Secretary to President Kennedy . . .

On May 26, 1964, Pierre Salinger told the Associated Press that "the fact remains that by Mr. Alan Cranston's own admission, his inheritance tax appraisers [while Cranston was serving as California State Controller] are substantially kicking back to finance his bid for the Senate. The matter amounts to a major scandal."

HUGH M. BURNS President Pro Tem, California State Senate . . .

On October 22, 1968, veteran Democrat state legislator of 31 years, Hugh M. Burns, told reporters that Alan Cranston's statements supporting the grape boycott "raised serious doubts as to Mr. Cranston's competency to serve as United States Senator." Said Burns: "This is undoubtedly the first time in American political history that a candidate for the U. S. Senate has ever publicly asked consumers not to buy the products of his state. This alone probably should be enough for Californians to soundly reject him at the polls November 5."

HOUSTON FLOURNOY California State Controller . . .

On September 5, 1968, Controller Houston Flournoy issued a report to Californians. Highlighted was the fact that 25 appraisers, most of them appointees of Democrat Controller Alan Cranston and since replaced by Flournoy, failed to account for their expenses. According to a San Jose Mercury-News Sacramento Bureau article which reviewed the report, a tabulation of some 154 appraisers who did file income reports during Cranston's term as controller, showed that each averaged $20,654 during 1967. After Flournoy took office he initiated a program of qualification tests for inheritance tax appraisers. Cranston had never used such tests. The results were that of those appraisers who had served under Cranston who took the test, 48 failed and 11 refused to take the test and resigned. Only 51 passed.

JESSE M. UNRUH California State Assembly Speaker . . .

On May 14, 1964, the Associated Press and the United Press International reported that Democrat State Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh stepped into the legislative controversy over the appraisers who were appointed by State Controller Alan Cranston. Unruh said: "Inheritance tax appraisers are one of the most corrupting influences in California politics today." The following week Unruh called on Cranston to answer the charge of a former state inheritance tax appraiser that the controller sold the jobs for $5,000 campaign contributions. The Associated Press reported that Unruh offered to open his own campaign financial records and challenged Cranston to debate the sources of his political funds.

NEGRO PUBLIC OFFICIALS May, 1964 . . .

In a joint press release reported by the United Press International in May of 1964, four Negro public officials charged that Alan Cranston pretended to favor the civil rights program while taking the opposite position in the operation of his office as California State Controller. Making the accusation, according to United Press International, were the Hon. Gilbert Lindsay and Billy G. Mills, Los Angeles City Councilmen, and the Hon. F. Douglas Ferrell and Mervyn M. Dymally, Los Angeles Assemblymen. They said: "Cranston does not visibly have one member of any minority group on his Sacramento capitol staff while other state office holders do."

OAKLAND TRIBUNE EDITORIAL October 17, 1968 . . .

Alan Cranston's record as a public official does not inspire confidence. As State Controller during the eight years of the Brown administration, he was a party to the excessive spending and fiscal irresponsibility that brought California to the brink of bankruptcy.

Watch halloween hazards with children

Popular seasonal celebrations can be filled with safety hazards as well as with pleasure, and Halloween unfortunately falls into this category.

Here are rules suggested by the Campbell Fire Department to help keep Halloween fire-safe:

Costumes should be labeled "flameproof" if purchased readymade, or must undergo flameproofing treatment if made at home.

Avoid costumes with flimsy fabric, loose flowing sleeves, voluminous skirts—especially beware of the traditional billowing robes of ghosts and witches, made of yards and yards of worn sheets, which easily catch fire. Costumes should also be short enough so youngsters don't trip on them, and of light colors so they can easily be seen by motorists.

Safest disguises are "natural" masks—cosmetic make-up, drawing charcoal or colored chalk applied directly to the skin. If commercial masks, wigs and beards are worn, make sure they are "flameproof". Avoid those with fibrous "hair" and any which obscure the child's vision.

Use a flashlight—never a lighted candle—to illuminate a pumpkin face, whether it is carried or is part of the decorations. Be sure children keep well away from bonfires, fireplaces, sparks and other sources of intense heat.

Halloween decorations should never be placed near light bulbs, radiators, lighted candles or other flames or heat.

Be especially careful with the colorful fall leaves, berries, haystacks, Indian corn and similar tinder-dry materials used in typical fall decorations.

So successful was the party that Mrs. Shirley Hess, circulation manager, by popular demand has announced another contest. Carriers bringing in 10 starts in time for the November carrier meeting will be treated to another ice skating party.

CAMPBELL 4-H

The Campbell 4-H club elected Kathleen Clancy as president of the group for the coming year at their recent October meeting.

Other new officers elected included Ted Wright, vice-president; Judy Bain, secretary; Dennis Chivers, treasurer; Suann Mariani, reporter; Nancy Chivers, song leader and Dannette Diaz, recreation leader.

Candlelight installation ceremonies were conducted by Caroline Carlson and Vicky Garrod from the Saratoga 4-H club and Gary Trantor of Cupertino 4-H serving as installing committeeman.

The remainder of the evening was spent discussing the Halloween party, signing up of projects groups and a report on the coming years activities being given by Roy Viglicca, local club leader. Refreshments were served and a recreation period followed.

Church adds second service

The Saratoga Avenue Baptist Church, at 1735 Saratoga Ave., San Jose, announced that beginning Sunday, Nov. 3, two morning worship services will be conducted.

Rev. Harry L. Twining, the pastor, will deliver the sermon at both services. The evening service will continue to be held at 7 p.m.

The mid-week Wednesday Bible hour has been changed from 7:30 to 7 p.m. The Pioneer Girls for third to eighth grade girls and the Good News Club for younger children also meet at 7 p.m. on Wednesday.

Taxpayer group urges 'yes' vote on S.J. measure

Passage of Proposition A on the San Jose Municipal ballot was termed "an absolutely essential measure to insure the orderly growth and development of the City of San Jose", by Dale H. Scott, executive director of the Santa Clara County taxpayers association.

"The expansion of the sewage treatment facilities as required by the Regional Water Quality Control Board must be completed to avoid the enforcement of the "cease and desist order" already issued against the City of San Jose. These orders must be followed to meet the water quality standards adopted by the Control Board. A "YES" vote on Proposition A will allow the necessary expansion of this facility."

Scott is a Campbell resident and is active in local civic affairs. He is a member of the city's Planning Commission.

ON CAPITOL

with
"Charlie" Gubser

In the not-too-distant future, a commuting businessman may emerge from a subway station 100 feet below Market Street in San Francisco after a smooth 30-minute ride from San Jose, including stops at 15 intermediate stations.

This is the capability of a new and revolutionary rapid transit system developed by Larry Edwards of Palo Alto, a former key engineer on the Polaris missile program. The concept is called GVT—Gravity Vacuum Transit.

GVT looks 50 years ahead in the rapid transit field instead of concentrating on systems which are obsolete before they are built. Reputable research organizations have found it to be scientifically sound and financially feasible. Basically, GVT is a larger adaptation of the vacuum tubes which fed sales slips and customer payments to the central cashier in older department stores. It envisions trains which, on long runs, could develop speeds up to 500 miles per hour and would require no on-board power plant. Trains would move from each underground station by a partial vacuum created by surface air compressors, would accelerate by gravity and decelerate at the next station by reverse gravity and air pressure.

By employing modern deep-tunneling techniques, trains would travel well below rivers and lakes. Easements would be inexpensive because deep tunnels would create no surface noise or air pollution, building foundations would not be weakened, and normal uses of surface land would not be hindered. The equipment, techniques, and all components of this motorless underground train are in existence today and require no new development.

We have come close to the saturation point in the utilization of automobiles and aircraft. The only room left for new travel is underground. With GVT, airports could be located in isolated areas to relieve air traffic congestion and passengers could travel underground to major cities in faster time than they currently drive from metropolitan airports. With round the clock schedules which beat the airlines, the requirement for air transportation, already overtaxed, could be reduced to reasonable limits.

The entire field of transportation has always been a proper federal responsibility since we first developed post roads for carrying the mail. Rail, auto, air, and water transportation systems could never have developed without receiving original impetus from government. So clearly the responsibility for developing this new and imaginative solution to our transportation problems lies with the Department of Transportation in Washington, D.C. A relatively small appropriation of $10 million can provide a complete test of the GVT principle within 15 months. Recently I spearheaded a request by 33 California Congressmen for

Educational TV station aids election boards

George Mann, County Registrar of voters, will use the county's educational television station KTEH, Channel 54, to instruct members of precinct boards in their election day duties.

The inspector and at least one other member of the election board from each precinct for the Nov. 5 election must attend the registrar's training class or watch it on the T.V. station.

Any election official who can watch the program on U.H.F. television is excused from attending the class, Mann explained.

For those who cannot see the program on home sets, the following schedule still remains: Thursday, Oct. 31, 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.; Homestead High School, Cupertino; same date, 7:30 p.m., Hester School, San Jose, and Friday Nov. 1, 2 p.m., Willow Glen Elementary and Hester School, both in San Jose.

The classes will be televised at the above hours by Channel 54, Mann explained.

Class to tell economics pix

Do you want to know where your money goes? Are you curious about the operation of the department of weights and measures—like how to compare labels and sizing and the like? As a tax-payer, do you want to know how your money is spent? Would you like to know what the district attorney's office is equipped to do for you as a citizen? These questions, and many more, can and will be answered for students enrolled in a class titled "Consumer Economics" which commences a nine-week session under the auspices of Metropolitan Adult Education at Camden High School on Nov. 12.

The class will be conducted from 7 to 10 with Irv Cohn, an adult teacher for seven years, as instructor. Cohn promises his students that experts from these fields as well as several others, will present programs for the class each night.

Enrollment can be made at Camden High on opening night. Information may be obtained by calling 293-5400. Registration fee is $1.50.

The Cheerleaders and Song Girls made the team and coaches cookies and a cake to eat after the game Friday. It was appreciated by the boys.

Young Life Prospect Halloween Queen nominee Susan Era had a car wash this weekend to earn money to win. It is rumored that Prospect is ahead of Campbell's Carol Fischer.

The Parchment Farms will be the band playing.

Next Wednesday is Back-to-School Night. School will be dismissed at 12.

Last Tuesday was Student Administration Day. All offices that were filled by the Student Council proved to be educational and very worthwhile. PG&E film on state crops

A utility element amendment to the County General Plan keyed to preserving scenic values is to be presented to the County Planning Commission on Nov. 7.

The proposed policy statement and map delineating gas and electric transmission line routing and substation location was developed following nearly three years of study and conferences involving the County Planning Department, Pacific Gas & Electric Co., city officials, conservationists, and interested County residents, primarily those in the Santa Cruz Mountains area.

Prepared by the County Planning Department staff in cooperation with Pacific Gas & Electric Co., it includes routings which have won the endorsement of homeowners associations and conservation groups most concerned with utility line locations.

The proposed line is designed to meet major utility needs in Santa Clara County until 1980 and the policy according to Roy Cameron, county planning director, is aimed at fitting transmission facilities into the landscape with as little scenic damage as possible.

New major electric transmission lines envisioned by PG&E to meet the needs of the County's growing population include a route through the Soda Springs Canyon area, a two and a half mile long line to serve The Villages residential complex in the Evergreen area and, if development warrants, a line to serve residential growth around Anderson Reservoir.

Hearings before the Planning Commission will be held at 11 a.m. Nov. 7 in the Board of Supervisors Chambers.

The map and statement are available for public examination in the County Planning Department, 70 West Hedding St., San Jose. Copies of the statement will be available to the public during the week prior to the hearing.

LIFE SAVING AWARD—Sheriff Charles J. Praelnik (right) of Santa Clara County recently presented Deputy Sheriff Ron McLeister an award from the American Red Cross as well as the sheriff's department.

McLeister, a member of the department since April 3, 1967, is married and has two children. In May of this year he was credited with the saving of the life of a man injured in an automobile accident in Saratoga. McLeister, as the first officer to respond to the automobile accident in which the driver received a severe cut in his neck, immediately gave first aid. Hospital authorities said that action probably saved the individual's life.

Ferrari heads Little League

Lou Ferrari will serve as president of the Campbell Little League for 1968-69 season as a result of the annual election of officers.

Other officers named included Joe McGrody, vice-president; John Hanrahan, secretary; Bill McLain, treasurer; Charlotte Hanrahan, recording secretary and Ted Wackerman, Dick Bronstrom and Ken Aubineau, directors.

The next meeting of the Campbell Little League will take place this Thursday (Oct. 31) at the Rosemary Field clubhouse at 8 p.m.

Ski class

The Los Gatos-Saratoga Recreation Department has announced that an additional Dry-Land Ski class will be offered beginning Nov. 5 at the Los Gatos Community Center.

Dick Person, former ski instructor at Squaw Valley and Mount Shasta, will instruct the six week class.

The class is geared for the adult community including high school juniors and seniors. Interested skiers, including beginners, should register immediately for the class at the Los Gatos-Saratoga Recreation Department, 123 E. Main St., Los Gatos. The registration fee will be $6 for residents and $7.50 for non-residents.

For further information contact the Recreation Department of 354-8700.

A PALACE GUARD—Steve Ritchie, far right, hopes that his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. V. Sansom of 1081 Springfield Dr. will be in the audience for the San Jose Light Opera Association opening musicale "The King and I" on Nov. 8 at the Montgomery Theatre. Additional performances will be given Nov. 9 and 15-16. Steve is cast in the role of a Palace Guard. With Steve are l. to r. Patricia Cutler, Cindy Eulitz, Stella Hagdohl and Mel Carrerow who is cast as Kralhome, Prime Minister. Other Campbellites associated with the production include Jim Corey, lighting director, former Campbell High School student; and Mike Ventura, stage manager, a 1967 Camden High School graduate.

AT LONG LAST—Campbell Ave. from Harrison to Winchester Avenues was closed to traffic Monday except for one lane. Hugh Russell Davidson, driving a van truck east on Campbell Avenue, apparently saw too late that the detour was in effect, and turned left abruptly in front of the pickup truck driven by David Chorjel. The resulting damage to the pick-up is pictured above.

ter) Campbell Business chairman for United Fund here and overall campaign chairman for Campbell, Robert E. Harrison. At the meeting Harrison reported that his volunteers had accounted for 51 per cent of the community's $50,198 to date or $25,630. It was reported that Cambrian Park had reached 87% ($4,036) of its goal of $4,665; Los Gatos-Monte Sereno, 60% ($19,381) of its goal of $32,362 and that Saratoga had collected 88% ($24,271) of its goal of $27,618.

United Fund begins final lap of drive

Santa Clara County United Fund passed the two-thirds mark last week as volunteers continued to push toward a 3.1 million dollar county-wide goal in their 1968 drive.

According to Bart R. van Eck of the FMC Corp., fund president, the volunteer organization has already accounted $2,189,479 or 69 per cent of their target figure.

More than 150 United Fund volunteers joined with the Rotary Club and the Metropolitan Association of San Jose at a luncheon to honor the 12 UF "loaned executives" who this week will wind up more than two months as full time volunteers for the fund-raising organization.

Featured speaker for the luncheon event was Emmett "Rosey" O'Donnell, Jr., retired Air Force general and national president of USO. O'Donnell commended the hard-working fund campaigners and reminded them of the importance of their efforts. USO is one of the 81 community service agencies currently supported by United Fund dollars.

O'Donnell was introduced by William Rieke of the Lockheed Company, chairman of the United Fund "loaned executive" program under which

New Books at the CAMPBELL LIBRARY

Sherrill, Robert. GOTHIC POLITICS IN THE DEEP SOUTH This book is a look into the careers of some of the politicians marking major episodes in the events of the deep South. Such men as Leander Perez, Orval Faubus, and George Wallace are discussed by the author.

Rickett, Frances. A CERTAIN SLANT OF LIGHT (FICTION) A delightful book of small town life during the depression years as seen by ten-year old Angel Crowley. During the two years covered in the book, Angel gains much knowledge of the world and of the bigotry found all around. She also learns to understand people and to become compassionate. A good story, well told for summer reading.

Still, Henry. THE DIRTY ANIMAL

Man, the dirtiest of animals, has contaminated his land, water, and air with rotting garbage and structures that create urban congestion. He also focuses on one of the chief offenders, the automobile. A shocking presentation of the destruction of our environment.

Rice, Berkeley. THE OTHER END OF THE LEASH

This is a documentary report on the fifty-million Americans who own pets, and the men who run the vastly profitable pet industry. It is not a pet book, but a searching look at how Americans are gradually turning their pets into people.

Hill, Gladwin. DANCING BEAR

An intriguingly told report on the complexities of California politics. Informative to the new comer, and good refresher course for the native.

McLeish, Dougal. THE TRAITOR GAME

This is an exciting story of political intrigue and assassination in Canada. John Lane and his friend Max Gervais run into treason, murder, and riots. Mary Gervais, Max's sister adds the love interest. One of the sidelights is a bit about Canadian government that few people know about. It is an interesting and exciting book.

Sunset Magazine. LOS ANGELES- PORTRAIT OF AN EXTRAORDINARY CITY

This book is a pictorial presentation of the wealth of basic assets, both inherited and man-made, that contribute to the greatness of Los Angeles. It portrays Los Angeles as place on the move, a place of the future, yet an area with a unique and rich heritage all its own.

Turner, William W. THE POLICE ESTABLISHMENT

An eye-opening account of nine major police departments, this book reveals what makes them tick; who runs them; what their staffs are like; how they rate. A timely book considering the civil disorders of these past months.

NEW OFFICE OPENS-cutting the ribbon to celebrate the opening of the Campbell office of Weight Watchers of

Northern California are l. to r. Dean Wright, manager of Santa Clara County; Seymour Hyman, secretary-treasurer; Ken Mantle, Campbell Chamber of Commerce president and

JOB TRAINING

The county welfare department claims to have saved $108,297 in family assistance payments by jointly sponsoring a training program with Lockheed Missiles & Space Co. for "hard-core unemployed".

Under the program Lockheed undertook the training of 111 unemployed persons including 31 welfare recipients.

Details of the plan have been described in a recent issue of Harvard Business Review.

The Welfare Department provided for 31 trainees the 111 through its reemployment bureau, an agency which regularly seeks training opportunities for welfare recipients.
